How to Determine the Weight of Your Shipment

*Each dimension must be rounded to the nearest whole number. A minimum billable weight of 6 lbs (3kg) per piece will apply when the average weight per piece in a multiple piece shipment is less than 6 lbs (3kg). With the shipment weight calculated above, you can determine the rates using the rate charts in the Canpar Rate Guide. Additional Extended Area Surcharge and/or Canpar Express accessorials that may apply.

Place your package on a scale to measure the actual weight of the package.

Determine the cubic weight of the package in pounds by using the formula below. All charges are based on a minimum density of 12.4 on domestic and US Ground shipments and 15 pounds per cubic foot on Domestic Select, Express, US Select and International shipments.

L x W x H (inches) x 12.4 (cube factor) for domestic or US Ground shipments or 15 (cube factor) for domestic Select, Express, US Select and International Shipments

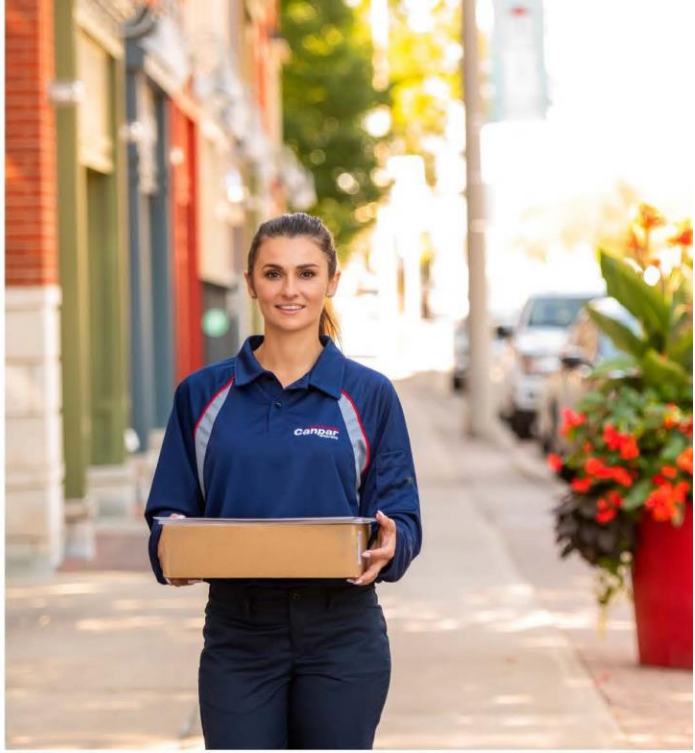

1728 (1 cubic foot)

The greater of the 3 weights (Declared, Actual or Dimensional) will be the chargeable weight for your package.

If you have a multi-piece shipment, add the greater of each package's actual or dimensional weight.

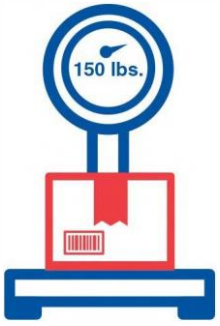

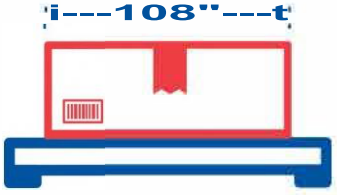

Weight and Size Maximums

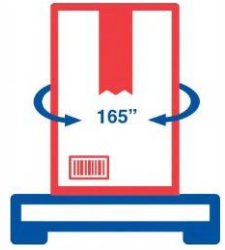

The following restrictions apply to individual packages within a shipment:

Maximum weight per piece is 150 lbs or 68 kilograms*

Maximum length per piece is 108 inches or 274 centimeters*

Maximum length and girth of 165 inches or 419 centimeters*

*Additional surcharges may apply to packages up to or beyond our weight/size maximums.
Some restrictions and/or charges may apply. For more information, please call customer service at 1-800-387-9335.
